Fullstack Developer

Front-End Developer with graphic design and videography experience. Recently completed my Full-stack certification from the University of Minnesota. With strengthened skills in Html, CSS, Java, Node.js, jQuery and responsive web design. I am known for being task oriented, a creative problem solver, and an excellent team player. I have been helping dozens of centers and non-profits in the twin cities in technical and marketing aspects of their respective organizations for years using the skills that I have developed and honed from a young age. With years of freelancing experience and newly acquired technical training, I am sure to fit into part of a bigger, fast-pace, quality driven team in order to create better web applications. Fluent in English, Somali, and Arabic.
